Walla Walla, Washington, is an excellent wine region in the country and also one of the cheapest towns you'll actually want to retire in. It is home to the 38-acre Abeja Winery, renowned for its Washington State Chardonnay, Columbia Valley Cabernet Sauvignon, and Columbia Valley Merlot, which visitors can sample on-site. Try a Traditional Tasting or an Estate Experience and you'll see exactly why Abeja has earned so many accolades over the years. If your budget allows, splurge and stay at the adjacent Inn at Abeja, though the Best Western Plus Walla Walla is an excellent, centrally located cheaper choice.
