Three Meeting Venues in Washington State

Looking to book an event in Washington? Here are three venues to keep in mind:

Cedarbrook Lodge

Cedarbrook Lodge is aimed at conferences, awards dinners, weddings, or board meetings memorable. Unique to the venue is The Summit Auditorium that has Dolby-Digital Surround Sound, a built-in high-definition projection system, and ergonomically designed Herman Miller Aeron chairs for 50 to 120 guests.

Big Cedar meeting spaces accommodate 20 to 200 guests comfortably, and smaller group meetings, interviews and breakouts in the Dens, a good fit for groups of two to eight guests, or meeting studios, aimed at 10 to 14 guests. Big Cedar spaces have floor-to-ceiling windows, private restrooms, and AV capabilities and our Studios provide cozy gas-fireplaces.

Salish Lodge & Spa

This serene Northwest lodge has newly renovated meeting spaces that can host events ranging from breakfast board meetings to corporate team building retreats, with accommodations available for groups of up to 180 people. The newly renovated meeting spaces have natural lighting and feature fireplaces, wood craftsmanship and subtle Northwest décor. There is also high-speed Internet access and access to AV equipment.

The full meetings package can be seen here:

Semiahmoo Resort, Golf, and Spa

With more than 35,000 square feet of versatile banquet and meeting space, Semiahmoo Resort's seaside location can host groups from five to 500. Amenities include two award-winning courses and a full-service spa, along with on-site restaurants and a professional catering staff.

Facilities include a 7,200-square foot exhibit hall, 6,500-square foot grand ballroom, 13 additional meeting rooms with extensive audio/visual equipment including video conference capabilities and complete technical support, and a comprehensive, 24/7 self-service business center.

Among other venues are the Garden Plaza at the Tudor-style clubhouse at Loomis Trail Golf Club and a 3,600-square foot Clubhouse Pavilion for outdoor events at Semiahmoo Golf & Country Club.
