

LOCAL SCOOPS | By Jennifer Cerasoli

Top 5 Dog-Friendly Wedding Venues in Seattle

Catering, dresses, and cakes are important, but your wedding wouldn't be complete without your pet by your side. If you're looking for the best places for dogs in weddings in Seattle, you've found them. Check out our list of the best dog-friendly venues in the area.

Click on the venues in the map below, and scroll down for photos and more info.

4. Cedarbrook Lodge

18525 36th Ave. S, Seatac, WA 98188

Cedarbrook Lodge sits on eleven acres surrounded by restored wetlands and is a secluded hideaway in a central location. You'll have a choice of spaces, an award-winning culinary team, and a premier hotel for your guests' convenience. Choose from two different indoor venues with floor-to-ceiling windows and wooden beams for a warm ambiance, or have your celebration on the Evergreen Lawn surrounded by the greenery of the Pacific Northwest.

Dogs are welcome in your wedding space but must be on a leash. They are not allowed in the restaurants or spa. However, there are a limited number of dog-friendly rooms if you are staying at the lodge. For a $50 fee, your dog can stay with you and will receive a Puppy Pantry menu, bowl, and treats. This venue offers two wedding packages which range from $1,900-$4,250 depending on the season.